The best way to start...

Eggs remain a safe bet whose consumption levels are stable, not to say increasing in most of the countries.

Egg processing business is not the prerogative of investors who buy eggs to process, egg producers/farmers can also go into this buoyant egg products market without fear.

With the OVOCOMPACT®, you can:

- process downgraded eggs and convert them into a safe pasteurized and high value product
- diversify your activities and work with food industrials whose needs in raw materials keep growing
- or just extend the range of your products by using it as a secondary line

Immediate profitability and short payback

Use the benefits of our experience to make your investment profitable in a very short term!
